SHERIFF SAUL'S MYSTERY RETURN

Sheriff Saul and his posse, which have been on the trail for weeks after Davy the Outlaw and his gang, have returned unexpectedly without capturing their man. A member of the posse has told the Cowtown News that somehow Davy had gotten the drop on Sheriff Saul and stolen his pistol. This deputy, who wishes to not be named, says that this is not the first time this has happened, citing another time in a cave, where unknowingly, Davy was trapped, but somehow escaped. He further added that Davy still maintains his innocence regarding the bank robbery. The Sheriff has refused to comment about these reports, though it would appear that Sheriff Saul is now giving up his chase.

"DAVY HELPED US SURVIVE THE WINTER"

A Miss Abigail visited the Morton's on Sunday and narrated at tea how she and her father had survived in a snowbound mtn cabin this winter with the assistance of Davy the Outlaw. She said he frequently left them food supplies and firewood; and on one occasion even drove off a pack of wolves. "Davy's been very kind," she says, "Even though father wasn't very grateful for his help!"

Psalm 34:14

Range War?

Insults and Angry words have developed into a confrontation between local ranchers and shepherders. Destruction of property and fences have resulted and some fear violence will result. Both claim that the other side started it! Cattlemen accuse the sheep herders of over grazing the grass. Shepherds claim their sheep are being kept from water by Rancher's barbed wire fences. A shepherd's wagon was burned, and ranch fences have been cut, Both sides say they will get even. Sheriff Saul's frequent absences pursuing Davy the Outlaw, have not helped to settle these angry feelings.
